To Whom It May Concern,

It is with genuine appreciation that we write this letter of recommendation on behalf of Oleksii, who served as a Frontend Developer at YachtWay. During his tenure, Oleksii made a substantial and lasting contribution to the technical foundation of our platform, and we are pleased to recommend him without reservation.

In his role as Frontend Developer, Oleksii was responsible for building and evolving the user-facing surface of the YachtWay platform : from the public marketplace to the internal tooling our team relies on every day. He owned complex areas of the codebase, made deliberate architectural decisions, and consistently shipped work that was performant, maintainable, and built to scale. Oleksii brought a deep technical command of modern frontend engineering : React, TypeScript, state management, rendering performance, and the underlying browser primitives : and applied it with judgment rather than dogma. The quality of the interfaces he delivered directly shaped the experience of our users and the credibility of our product.

Oleksii is rigorous and thoughtful. He demonstrated the ability to take ambiguous product requirements and turn them into well-structured, production-ready features, often anticipating edge cases and failure modes that others would miss. Oleksii raised the technical bar around him through clear code reviews and careful refactors, and did so in a fast-moving environment where the product was continuously evolving. He communicated clearly, followed through on commitments, and collaborated effectively with designers, backend engineers, and product across every part of the organization.

We are confident that Oleksii will bring the same craftsmanship and engineering maturity to his next opportunity. Any organization that has the benefit of working with him will find a deeply capable, dependable, and thoughtful engineer : the kind who quietly makes the team and the product better.

Sincerely,

Vladyslava Fedorova
